

Programming Embedded Systems with Lego Mindstorms

Content

In this software practical, we will practise the programming of embedded software considering the Robotics Invention System as an example. The Java based open source operating system Lejos will be used for developing robots which interact with their environment through sensors and actuators. As a completion of the practical, we will arrange a competition between the participants. Basic knowledge of Java is a prerequisite for participation.

Contact

- Daniel Klünder

From:

<https://embedded.rwth-aachen.de/> - Informatik 11 - Embedded Software

Permanent link:

<https://embedded.rwth-aachen.de/doku.php?id=en:lehre:wise0506:mindstorms>

Last update: 2009/06/08 18:02

